

MOONSHINER

Moonshiner is looking for

Junior Java Developer (f/m) full-time/part-time

About us:

Moonshiner is a software architecture and programming agency that enables organizational change through technological innovation. We are an award-winning Austrian company fascinated by all things digital, altering how enterprises organize their IT through a hands-on mentality and a continued focus on results.

We are looking for a Junior Java Developer with a creative mind and an appreciation for the amazing possibilities technology has to offer.

About the job:

You love coding and the Java world? You're a young talent who wants to improve your skills and learn from the best? Then this is the perfect opportunity for you! As a Junior Java Developer at Moonshiner you will - together with an amazing team - develop digital platforms of the future and influence the way we shape the Java world.

Your responsibilities:

- Development of solutions according to the needs of our clients, including detailed concepts for development and implementation
- Overcoming hurdles on the way to successful implementation: solving complex problems, meeting deadlines and quality expectations, setup and maintenance of test environments and unit tests
- Close collaborations with other teams in Moonshiner and maintenance of source control environments, ensuring code integrity of all developers
- Creation of user stories and criteria for acceptance

Your qualifications:

- Technical degree (HTL with focus on IT, computing/data processing or something comparable)
- Relevant working experience is an advantage but not necessary.
- Enthusiasm for internet technologies and its technical implementation/realization, based on Java/J2EE, HTML, JSP, Spring and webservice
- Interest in micro service architecture approaches and when to use them.
- Understanding of the importance of testing and an affinity for test-driven development.

What you can expect from us:

- Starting salary of EUR 37.800,00 with the possibility of overpayment depending on experience.

- A hackathon-approved and award-winning development team working with latest tech stack in a collaborative atmosphere with a focus on creative freedom.
- An office in the heart of Vienna which offers comfortable collaboration spaces with couches, Playstation, snacks, beverages, and the possibility of having your furry friend join you at the office.
- Weekly get-togethers for lunch, monthly after-work celebrations and additional team events.
- A flat organizational hierarchy and the possibility of working remotely in our Barcelona, Mumbai or Munich offices.
- We grant flexibility to students wishing to add practical experience to their studies.
- Moonshiner is an equal opportunity employer. We extend equal opportunity to all individuals and believe that diversity enhances our work.

Ready to become part of the team?
We can't wait to hear from you!
office@moonshiner.at
Tel.: +43-650-56 66 126